Hatt wall THE DAILY AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. OUR SECOND YEAR!

One year ago this day was issued the first number of the AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. We were then assured by many intelligent citizens of Washington that it had already been fully demonstrated that such a paper could not live here and that ours could not exist three months while cautious men of business assured us that while cautious men of business assured us that if we should succeed in sustaining it, then they would give us their support! The predictions of the former have proved baseless—the wish that was father to the thought has not been realized; and the promises of the latter have not been redeemed.

Cut off from all hopes of the kind of patronage on which other papers of this city fatten—en-countering the overwhelming competition of Wash ington papers supported by the government patronage, and the newspapers of Baltimore, that derive their support from a commercial and manufacturing population of one hundred and eighty thousand persons—proscribed in official places—avoided by timid men in office—opposed by the concerted influence of a portion of a respect-able religious communion, upon a pretext en-tirely baseless—without the influence in the community of connexions and friends to defend us from the adroit opposition of interested competitors,—we have yet maintained our position, and to-day stand before our fellow-citizens prepared to serve them faithfully, fearlessly, and independently. We have no favors to ask. We have respecand good-will toward the people of this commu-nity, and intend to merit theirs in return. But we shall not do this by flattering their follies, or appealing to their sympathies. When such a course as this becomes necessary to insure success, we shall not be ashamed to fail. But unti it does, our path shall lie onward and upward. We will neither fail nor falter.

Now for a few familiar words. Why do we not sell our paper as cheap as the Baltimore papers are sold? is the frequent question. We reply, Because we are not in Baltimore-because a com mercial city of one hundred and eighty thousand people can yield an amount of advertising cusm not to be obtained in a community of thousand people who do their shopping in Balti more! Do their shopping in Baltimore! Yes, by wilful and unreasonable opposition to the only cheap paper of their own that ever could survive lights, the business men of Washington give all the aid in their power to promote the interest. of Baltimore merchants here. The Baltimore papers contain Baltimore advertisements; and the people of Washington compile their memorands from such advertisements, send their orders to Baltimore, obtain their goods there, and thus make our own storekeepers pay a well-merited

Would we proscribe the papers of Baltimore? By no means. We regard the morning as flat and dull that does not bring them to us. We are willing to encourage their circulation here. They should bring light and knowledge to every home and place of business throughout our whole city Every one should rejoice in the facilities they afford. But the extensive circulation 5th ult. She brings $2,000,000 gold on freight, of a Washington afternoon paper, with the and $600,000 in the hands of 100 passengers. sending to Baltimore for those commodities which can as well be obtained in Washington. It was with special reference to this that we commence an afternoon paper. We knew the advantage offered by the penny press of Baltimore-we ap preciated them fully; we did not wish to come in conflict with them. We intended not to cross the path of those journals; and we believed ou purposes would be approved by our own people.

By many they have; but not by all. So far from this, we seriously doubt (call it egotism if you will!) that there is another man in Washington who would have clung to an enterprise as the writer of this has adhered to that upon which he had embarked—laboring without present re-compense, and with but feeble hope for the future; and even, from bitter necessity, submitting to a transitory public misapprehension of hi true position in particulars of the most seriou moment.

But away with the past. The present around us, and the prospect before, are what now concern us. We have no revenges—no regrets. We have no enemies that we know of, and care not dime for any that are unknown. We intend labor on, to improve with increasing means, t stand by our friends, to make them many, to stifle no sentiment, to sacrifice no opinion, to conciliate no bigot, to flatter no money-worship-Ice-water sells at Panama at two dimes per per, to bow before no official upstart, to sanction drink. Dysentery of a violent type had appeared no public or private wrong, and in general to live the isthmus.

The Mexican Boundary Commissioners had left and die only when our time shall have come.

If, therefore, any of our fellow-citizens shall feel inclined to give us kind words of encouragement, and to render us kindly aid, at the commencement of this our second year, we cordially invite them to our office. We will greet them at the threshold with a friendly welcome, endeavor to make a good return for all the benefits we shall receive at their hands, and preserve them from all future regrets that such has been their

FOWLERS & WELLS. Protection from Lightning.

Protection from Lightning.

THE undersigned, being the duly appointed Agent of Spratt's Electronax and Electro-Mitaltungers Lieuterian And Electro-Mitaltungers Lieuterians And Electro-Mitaltungers Lieuterians appointed Agent of offer these superior Rods, of Spiral-twisted, Carbonized Annealed Iron, with Zind Protectors, and Electro-positive elements combined in their manufacture; thus pendering them equal to copper as conductors. They are in ten-feet lengths, with accurately-fitted brans-screw connecting joints, an entire new style of metallic (patented) attachments, for brick or frame buildings; also, glass isolators, of a novel and ingenious construction, (patented,) forming a lock; the whole mounted with a solid platinum silver point, (patented,) twelve inches long, surrounded at the base with three angular negative magnets, which possess the power, to an extraordinary extent, of discharging the opposite elements of the most fearful thunderstorm, and embrace the entire perfection of science up to the present time; the whole constituting the most magnificent and perfect silent conductor ever presented to the public.

Safety has not been compromised by affording these excellent rods at such low rates; the greatest attention has been given to their construction, so as to be readily attached. The astonishing power of the negative magnets, in discharging the air of its opposite elements, has been clearly demonstrated by the Electrometer, when unmagnetized points have shown but slight results, though placed under the same conditions. In fact, they gather and silently discharge electricity from the atmosphere when you would scarcely suspect any being present.

These improvements being secured by double letters patent, you are bereby cautioned against laying yourselves liable, by purchasing of those who are not authorized, or none.

CHARLES W. HEYDON,
Washington City.

I do hereby certify that I have app lied various powerful chemical re-agents to Spratt's Patent Points for Lightning-Rods, and that the results of these experiments convince me that they will resist the action of atmospheric causes, and thereby preserve the extremity sharp—a condition most essential to protection against lightning. The re-agents used in the above experiments were a solution of chloride of sodium, (common salt,) acetic acid, sulphuric acid, and hydrochloric acid. With the first, there was no action on the metal; with the several acids, there was very slight—a fact sufficient to show that atmospheric influences would have no sensible effect.

JOHN LECONTE, Prof. of Nat. Phil. et Chem.
University or GA, October 8, 1850. The Lightning Conductors of Mr. Spratt, offered to me are well calculated to perform the office for which they are intended. Yours, truly, Prof. ROBT. PETER. Lexinoton, KY., February 20, 1886.

intended. Yours, truly,

Lexingron, Ky., February 29, 1859.

Chicago, September 3, 1850.

This may certify that I have examined, somewhat critically, James Spratt's Patant Lightning Rods, and that I am of opinion that it is constructed on scientific principles. For combining durability, cheapness, and efficacy, I deem it equal, and I think superior, to any other rod ever offered for my inspection.

Prof. JAS. V. Z. BLANEY.

Augusta, (Ga.) November 11, 1859.

This will certify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Metallic Points, and Isolating Attachments, manufactured by Mr. Spratt, and regard them as constructed in conformity to the general laws of the electric fluid; and the metallic compound constituting the Points, as promising, from the result of several tests to which they were submitted, to resist for years the action of those atmosphericauses most likely to corrode them.

A. MEANS,

Prof. Phys. Sc., Emory College, Ga., and Prof. Chem. and Pharm, Medical College, Ga.

The Lightning Conductors put up by Mr. Henry M. Smith, of this city, on the plan of Mr. Spratt, appear to me to be very well devised; and, in point of mer hanical construction, are the best I have ever seen.

It is to be hoped that the use of these Rods may become re the best 1 have ever seen.

It is to be hoped that the use of these Rods may becom general, as an important auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.

WILMINGTON BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthlest parts of the city of Wilmington, entirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The uniform healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of serious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contracted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Chendistry, Physiology, History, Rhetoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Machanics and Engineering; the latter and Surveying are taught practically by field operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the country. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter; while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tests, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September,) and is divided into four quarters of eleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventh month (July).

The First Session opens on Monday, December 1, 1851.

SENATE. The Senate consists of two Senators from each State. Since the admission of California, there are thirty-one States, represented by sixty-two Senators. The Senators who held over from the 4th of last March were forty-one, viz: eighteen Whigs and twenty-three Democrats. Of the twenty-one new Senators, three are yet to be elected from the following States:

Messrs. Foote and Davis, of Mississippi, have resigned. Of the members elect, and those holding over, thirty-four are Democrats, twenty-one are Whigs, and four Free-soilers. Of the Free-soilers, Hale and Seward were elected by a union of Whigs and Free-soilers; Sumner and Chase were elected by Democrats and Free-soilers combined. Dodge, (Democrat,) of Wis-consin; Fish, (Whig,) of New York; Foote, (Whig.) of Vermont; and Wade, (Whig.) of Ohio, are also put down by some as Free-soilers.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. The House consists of two hundred and thirty-three members and four Territorial delegates. These delegates, however, have no vote. Annexed are the names of the
